IN HARD LUCK.

Mr. Wm. Thomas, of this city, seems to be in hard luck. About two years ago his railway in Gosport was burned, and he has nearly everything and had no insurance.

About twelve months ago he came near cutting his foot off with an axe, which confined him to the house for some time.

After recovering he started a railway business, and was building up a nice business. On Friday of this week he was burned out. On this occasion, like the other, he had no insurance. But he will not be downed. Like Banquo's Ghost, he will keep coming. He has started out again with renewed vigor, and in a few days hopes to be at work for business. Pluck and energy will tell, and must succeed.

CITY PAYS FUNERAL EXPENSES.

The city was called upon yesterday to stand the expenses of two modest funerals. One of the bodies was that of Rose Capner, colored, who spent Friday night with a woman in King street. Before morning she was taken suddenly ill and died.

FOOTBALL.

A Hotly Contested Game Between Portsmouth and Maryland Athletic Club Won by the Latter.

By the close score of six to five, the eleven men of brawn and brawn representing the Maryland Athletic Club of Baltimore, won from the eleven men of brawn and brawn representing this fair city. It was a contest of brain against brawn, in which the former had much the best of it until an unfortunate fumble by Portsmouth in the last half, when fairly on the way to victory, the Orioles' goal, gave the ball to the "Orioles," their right end capturing the oval on the "Huke," and without opposition or interference planted it squarely between the goal posts, tying the score of five points made by Portsmouth in the first half; and when Capt. Goodrich kicked the goal fairly, the one additional point was enough to win the game.

A crowd of about 400 enthusiasts took advantage of the glorious football weather to witness their favorite sport.

It was an ideal afternoon for the game, being plenty cool enough for the players to do their best, but not too cool to interfere with the pleasure of the spectators, who, on both sides of the "gridiron," followed the ball as it was carried and kicked from one end of the field to the other.

Baltimore never had a chance to score but for the fumble, the ball nearly always being in their territory, except when kicked off or punted on the third down, and several times they had to surrender the ball when Portsmouth's "Pigmies" held them on "downs," while Portsmouth, the "big boys," had possession of the ball during the greater part of the game, losing it only once as a penalty for not gaining the required distance. A creditable fact, which added to the interest and pleasure of the spectators, was that not once during the game was a penalty for foul playing, and only once was there any kicking, that being when Willet kicked off and the ball went by Hume back of the goal line. The Marylanders claimed that Hume touched and fumbled the ball in fair ground, and that they were entitled to a "safety," according to the rule. The rule is very clear on this, however, "the impetus propelling the ball must come from a player defending the goal behind which the ball goes," and Referee Langhorne very properly decided the play a "touchback," with no score for either side, and the Portsmouth 25-yard line, where they had a fair kick.

Promptly at half after 3 Referee Langhorne tossed the coin, Captain Parrish calling it, "and the game guessed right the very first time."

Chose to take the ball, defending the north goal. Markham kicked off for Portsmouth to the 20-yard line; the ball was caught by Chipman, who returned it 15 yards before being downed. Then the teams lined-up and the fight began in earnest.

Baltimore tried Portsmouth's left end and then the center, but without success, and were forced to kick. Frazier caught the ball and returned 10 yards. Peckham skirted left end for 15 yards and Herbert went through right tackle and came from a played defense goal yard gains, Peckham and Hume were around the ends and Frazier and Herbert were pushed through the line until the latter scored Portsmouth's only touchdown. Hume barely missed a difficult goal and the score was 5 to 0 in Portsmouth's favor.

Willet kicked to Hume on the 10-yard line and Jimmie dodged for 15 yards back with the ball. Peckham made a beautiful run of 20 yards around end. Then the ball went to Maryland on downs and Willet carried it through for 5 yards. On the next line-up Robie was badly hurt. Time was up for the first half with the ball in Maryland's possession on Portsmouth's 40-yard line.

After ten minutes rest the contest was renewed with the same line-up for Maryland and for Portsmouth Captain Parrish went to right end, Hudgins going in at quarter.

Willet kicked the ball beyond the goal line and it was brought back to the 5-yard line, when Portsmouth had the ball. Hume punted out for 10 yards and the ball was Baltimore's on Portsmouth's 45-yard line. Willet was shoved through tackle for two gains of 5 yards each, but Portsmouth regained the balloon the next time on downs. After two ineffectual attempts downed.

To break Baltimore's time, Hume punted. Muselman bringing it back 20 yards by pretty running, helped by excellent interference. Portsmouth again withstood the terrific onslaught of the Maryland heavy-weight and muscular holding beautifully and Hume was again forced to kick. Blomer catching the punt, but was thrown in his tracks. Portsmouth again held the Baltimore on three downs, and by using the famous "tackles" back formation Hume and Peckham quickly punctured Baltimore's line for 15 yards.

It was at this stage of the game, when everything was brightest for Portsmouth's success, that the ball was fumbled, and on the "Huke" Whitehurst grabbed the ball and with an unobstructed run of 60 yards for a touchdown. Captain Goodrich kicked an easy goal, and the score was 6 to 5 in Maryland's favor, where it remained throughout the game.

Markham kicked to Blome, who ran back 15 yards, when Frazier tackled and threw him.

Baltimore could make no impression on Portsmouth's line, and Willet had to kick. The ball went out of bounds, but was captured by Frazier, and Portsmouth began a last and desperate struggle to win in the few minutes of play remaining; but, although Hume made a beautiful run of 15 yards followed by 10 more for Peckham, time was called and the game ended with the ball on Maryland's 35 yard line.

The line up:

Portsmouth. Position. M. A. C. Cox Center Reese Mickle L. T. Cochran Mickle E. T. Willet Markham L. E. Brooks Peck R. G. Radcliffe Herbert R. T. Townsend Robie (Parrish) R. E. Whitehurst Parrish (C.) Q. B. Goodrich (C.) (Hudgins)

DEATH OF WM. N. FOREMAN.

Mr. Wm. N. Foreman, son of the late John Foreman and Mrs. Lydia Foreman, died at 2:50 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his residence of his mother, No. 411 Dinwiddie street. His death was sudden and is thought to have been due to a stroke of apoplexy.

Mr. Foreman had an honorable war record and was at the time of his death a member of a Stonevale Camp, Confederate Veterans. He was a member of Old Dominion Guard, Company K, of the Ninth Virginia Regiment, and was also a member of Pickett's Division. He took part in a number of notable battles and was with his command at Gettysburg, where he took part in the famous charge.

Mr. Foreman was desperately wounded at Five Forks, April 1st, 1865, and to the day of his death he suffered from the effects of this wound. For years it had rendered him almost helpless, and of late years he had been a confirmed invalid. Mr. Foreman leaves a mother, Mrs. Lydia Foreman, four sisters and a brother, Mr. Geo. A.
